History

Founded in 1960, Quail Hollow Club was originally designed by George Cobb as an exclusive 18 hole private club. The club has positioned itself as one of the top tournament courses in the nation having hosted professional golf for over 31 years. No stranger to renovations, the club's leadership is always looking for ways to improve the course. In 2017 we completed Tom Fazio's initial master plan, which aided in making the 99th PGA Championship a huge success. In the summer of 2019 we completed a full practice area renovation to include a driving range and short game area. Professional golf will continue to have a home at Quail Hollow Club with the Wells Fargo Championship through 2024 and the President's Cup in 2021.

Internship Program Description

We offer an extensive and well-rounded internship programs that includes all aspects of golf course maintenance and championship preparation. Students will be given leadership opportunities to see the full extent of maintaining a course at championship level and will receive hands on training on irrigation, SubAir, budgeting, calibrations, chemical/fertilizer applications, construction techniques and equipment maintenance.

Educational and Experience Requirements

Recent Graduate or an individual currently enrolled in a Turfgrass, Horticulture, or industry supported college curriculum.

Incentives

Wages starting at $12.00 an hour. Housing, employee golf privileges, uniforms, and daily lunch are provided. It is our goal for each intern to experience a second tournament as a volunteer. We have had interns work at the US Open, PGA Championship, John Deere Classic, Wyndham Championship, President's Cup, Northern Trust, The National, and The Tour Championship.

Time Frame

We are currently accepting applications for 3, 6, and 12 month internships with flexible starting dates.
